Proposed Changes to the AAPOR Code of Professional Ethics and Practices; Recommendations of the Code Review Task Force

Michael Link introduced the proposed revisions to the AAPOR Code of Professional Ethics and Practices and thanked the task force members: Reg Baker, Jill Darling, Allyson Holbrook, Tim Johnson, Courtney Kennedy, Gary Langer, Ron Langley, Paul J. Lavrakas, John Loft, Mary Losch, Carl Ramirez, Trevor Tompson and Andrew Zukerberg, for their service.
Code Review Task Force chair Courtney Kennedy reviewed the task force recommendations and noted that major changes were covered in the code revisions summarized in the Task Force communication to Council. Significant changes included:

1. Expansion on respondent rights and personally identifiable information (Sections I and II);
2. Policy change proposed regarding non-probability samples (Section III);
3. New subsections proposed: qualitative survey research (Section III.B) and content analysis (Section III.C);
4. Paragraph added to promote data set disclosure (Section III.E).

Michael Link recognized the thorough and thoughtful work by the task force members. Council discussion followed. Additional comments included: With regard to documentation and disclosure in Part E, concern was expressed that the revisions may move away from individual responsibility and toward organizational responsibility. In Section A, Part 5, there was a suggestion to add a specific estimate of the part of the population not covered. Concern was expressed about the difficulty for a pollster to produce the required information. For Item 8, there was a suggestion to add mode and method; not adequate to say, “CAPI, CATI or IVR.” Item 11, name of supplier would say ‘sample’ supplier. For Item 18 there was a question about why dispositions can’t be reported.

Councilors were asked to send specific language to Courtney Kennedy on the changes discussed.

Cliff Zukin moved, seconded by Dan Merkle to accept the revisions to the AAPOR Code of Professional Ethics and Practices, pending consideration of comments to be received from members. Motion carried unanimously.

Frauke Kreuter responded that she would check with the Big Data Task Force to see if someone can make the trip to Argentina to present. An abstract would need to be submitted to WAPOR. Jenny Hunter Childs indicated she would be in Argentina and would be able to present if needed.
Survey Practice: New Vision Follow-Up Discussion
Survey Practice Advisory Committee Chair Rob Santos presented the new vision for Survey Practice, prepared by co-editors Kirby Goidel and Kumar Rao. The journal Advisory committee plans to come to the Council with a plan and progress report in March 2015.

Conference Steering Committee
Conference Chair Dawn V. Nelson reported that the committee is planning to expand the number of posters accepted and is looking at the budget implications of increasing the number of poster boards.

Sherwood – Kellen Follow-Up
John Waxman, AAPOR Managing Director, and Kellen Company Group Vice President, followed-up on the questions from the December Council call and addressed the following questions from the Council:
1. What percentage of TSGI staff is expected to remain given the increased commute to Oak Brook, IL? John stated that 15-20% will have an improved commute; 25-30% will have a neutral commute; and a significant portion of employees will have a more difficult commute. Kellen is committed to making people whole on the increased commute costs and time.

2. AAPOR has experienced challenges with staff turnover, and keeping the right people in the right positions. It is important that the Council will continue to be involved in staffing decisions. John responded that he will do everything possible to keep the team in place.

3. Are any of the AAPOR staff team positions considered redundant as a result of the merger? John indicated there are 3-4 Sherwood Group employees who have been notified. None of the employees serves directly on a client team. The plan is to keep client account teams in place.

4. Would AAPOR continue to be managed out of Chicago? John confirmed that was the plan.

5. Will Kellen continue to use the same software system to record staff time? If Kellen moves to a new system, how does that affect the fee structure? John noted that Kellen plans to continue to use the current system and AAPOR team employees will continue to report their time in the same manner they have been.

6. Will the merger create one company? John indicated the merger is largely vertical. He stated that Kellen has grown through mergers. Past Sherwood employees would function as a business unit within the Kellen structure.

7. How will the merger benefit AAPOR? John pointed out that Kellen is a larger organization with more resources, a bigger bench and increased communications capabilities.

8. What has kept you up at night regarding the merger? John described his concern and efforts to structure a deal that makes the move right for all clients and employees.

Michael Link indicated that he would coordinate offline with John to set up a meeting with the Kellen leadership in Atlanta.

Council discussed how it could best monitor the merger to minimize disruption to AAPOR’s management. Jordon Peugh pointed out there are things to look for, but not a lot you can do about them other than support staff and keep an eye out. Jordon encouraged Michael to connect with the Kellen management team to ensure there is a line of communication in the event of issues.
